

Modernize your digital solution development

CHANGE THE WAY YOU CREATE DIGITAL SOLUTIONS AND EXPERIENCES:

Digitally transform every step of your value chain, from product design and merchandising to store operations and customer service

Create frictionless and unified digital experiences for your customers across all touchpoints

Enhance employee experiences by connecting siloed data and disparate systems

Streamline digital solution delivery with one-click deployments on a cloud-native, native-mobile platform

Accelerate app development with out-of-the-box components and customizable solutions

HELPING OUR CUSTOMERS BUILD TAILOR-MADE SOLUTIONS

Every business is different. Instead of buying off-the-shelf solutions that need expensive customization to meet their unique needs, our partners are creating their own solutions—quickly and affordably—that line up exactly with their system and business requirements.

Modernize your ecosystem

One of the biggest professional beauty businesses in the world replaced their existing mobile sales system with a new order entry iPad app. This saves 400 sales reps globally each up to 2 hours per day.

Digitize the workplace

The largest meal-kit provider in the United States developed a fit-for-purpose core system for recipe developers, automating the recipe-to-procurement process. They realized time savings of nearly 40%, enabling hyper growth.

Enhance experiences

Publicly traded, billion-dollar apparel and accessory retailer deployed a store-to-store inventory transfer application across their network of 700 stores. They delivered twice as fast as they could have with traditional development and enabled associates to focus on customer experiences.

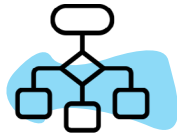

Increase cross-organizational collaboration

Improve customer service and problem-solving

Synchronize customer data services

Integrate vendors into organizational systems

Modernize core systems

KEY FINDINGS

According to the findings in the latest Gartner Magic Quadrant for Enterprise Low-Code Application Platforms, 2023. The 2023 report marked the seventh consecutive year that Mendix had been named a Leader by Gartner in the category.

Furthermore, Forrester Research also recently evaluated the top low-code platforms for professional developers and found that "Low-code is now fully mainstream and is advancing both the definition of 'developer' and the practices of agile development." Forrester also commented on numerous highlights of the Mendix Platform in its report, noting, "its strategic strengths are its innovation history (e.g., through its data catalog feature) and its large community marketplace of over 5,000 platform add-ons."
